On the 8th and 9th of June a bunch of IWFF members along with Dave Clough, his summer student Braden, and Julie from Regional District, completed some habitat studies on the Millstone and some of its tributaries. Some of the interesting findings were a homeless camp, a beaver or two, the back half of a decomposing animal, some fish fry and even a few trout.

The findings will be published and made available to the club as well. They may also lead to some stream remediation projects.

Participating members were, Bernie H., Ton P, Jim Mc, Paul I, Ant E, Bill C, Dan H. Gordon S and yours truly although due to a gimpy knee I was relegated to the role of lunch time "coffee boy"

Cheers, Basher
