

Biggest Fish Story of 2016 (so far)

When I started this month's question re: the biggest fish story of 2016 I expected Basher or someone to report that the biggest fish story was the collapse of the Pink Salmon Fishery, then Don sandbagged me with his story....below

Don and Heather [donheather@shaw.ca]

This is the biggest fish in the world called a Whale Shark and people get their jollies swimming with these gentle plankton eaters.

Like Don Ginter seen here swimming with this one. But what happens when two whale sharks get that "loving feeling".....Ask Don....

Y0u get back in the boat with the other coyotes and start drinking
