

Richard's Start to the Fishing Season

From: Richard Best <humptyd@shaw.ca>

The upside is that last year I went to my fave spot, toasted with a bottle of Czechvar to the new season and to wild steelhead and to Ceske Budjovice (my grandparents home), and proceeded to catch a beauty wild steelhead live on video.

So, this year (after digging myself out of the sinkhole) I went to the same spot, and made the same toast - except I toasted with Pilsner Urquell to the good people of Pilsen. (my other grandparents home) And proceeded to catch my first steelhead ever on homemade spinner. A good start to the new fishing year!
